NIFTY (24854.05)

Weekly Technical View

The NIFTY50 index extended its losing streak for the third consecutive week, down nearly 0.50 per cent from the previous week, due to lacklustre earnings, FIIs outflows and geopolitical tensions in west Asia. Technically the index closed with formation of doji kind of pattern on weekly scale suggesting consolidation may continue and breakout of either 25200 or 24550 levels would dictate the near-term trend. On the downside, the support will be at 24550-520 levels. Breakdown of 24520 levels would invite further selling pressure and then we could see NIFTY testing at 24190/23890 levels. However, on the higher side, the resistance will be at 25070/25200 levels. If NIFTY sustains above 25235 levels, then we could see NIFTY testing at 25285/25430 levels. Traders are advised to keep an eye on Q2FY25 earnings, global cues ongoing geopolitical tensions, FPI outflows, Crude oil price movements, which will weigh on market sentiments.
